Introductory note

Primarily, as a full-time single parent, I am kept busy with parenting and studies.
I am currently studying School Based Education Support.
I like to explore and engage in many different areas of interest, both professionally and to learn.
As a web entrepreneur, I manage a portfolio of websites for which I am responsible for operations.
Not content with the way global societies function, through Harmonious Platform Systems, I am developing a blueprint for a prototype internet subsystem with its own centralized digital currency, tokens and blockchain, to bring the vision of a digital utopia to the masses.
I am passionate about organization and being proactive with my time, ensuring each minute of every day is used to achieve what I want to.
I am constantly refining my skills and regularly engage in online study to learn about areas of interest related to the activities I engage in.
Currently, I'm studying Online campaign management, Digital and social media marketing, and Search engine optimization (SEO).
In addition to engaging in online study, I am developing a technology online training initiative, under the Harmonious Platform Systems Academy brand.
As someone who suffers from anxiety and mental health conditions, combined with debilitating brain fog and fatigue, achieving what I want to is often a great challenge.
That is why, as a supporter and advocate for Black Dog Institute, I participate in fundraising activities with funds going towards increasing awareness of mental health and suicide prevention.
As an activist and advocate for press freedom, I make regular donations to The Conversation, and am now recognized as a "Friend of The Conversation".
I am a proud Buddhist, treating all with the kindness, love and respect they deserve, and do what I can to make the world a better place.

About me

Honest · Transparent · Integral · Responsible · Ethical

# An active individual and often have my time consumed by my many engagements and commitments across the political and technological spectra.
# A deep thinker and futurist, I am frequently in a state of deep thought, devising ways today's technology and cryptography can be adapted to innovate and implement new methods which could solve future societal challenges.
# Always open to contract/part-time remote employment to work from my home office, with adaptable hours and flexibility which respect my primary commitment as a full-time single parent.
# My computer skills being my greatest asset, I am most confident using Linux w/ fish/Bash/pwsh.
# My skill set is focused on Linux operating systems, with OpenSUSE, Debian, Ubuntu, Red Hat and Fedora distributions being the core.
# A free and open-source software evangelist and member of its global community, makes Microsoft Windows foreign to me.
